- INAF Training Event “Beyond Borders: Equity and Inclusion in Scientific Culture”
The meeting took place from May 5 to 7, 2025 in the Research Area of Bologna and will be devoted to promoting the dialogue on welcoming and accessible institutions, from the physical, emotional and cultural point of view. Read an insight > Equità e inclusione nella cultura scientifica. The meeting was our first attempt to reflect on how making our work and our environment as accessible and friendly.
The meeting was organized by a few components of the UNIVERS@LL group (for equality in teaching and disseminating Astrophysics), of the INAF Committee for Equal Opportunities (CUG) and of the group taking care of writing and applying the Gender Equality Plan (GEP). About 90 people – 70 of whom in-person - took part in the event, which has a training value. We noticed a significant participation of administrative and technical staff (over 40%), over and above people with scientific and technological tasks, with a majority of women, even though this data has not been explicitly collected. During the meeting, we decided to face four topics which we consider relevant for our working life: neurodivergence, multiculturalism, gender equality, sensorial and motor disabilities. The aim of the event was to provide an overview, so as to raise awareness of the difficulties our colleagues may face, individually or in the interaction between them. The topics were handled in interactive modo, as game and group work, where work-related, realistic problem-solving situations were faced. The feedback we received were very positive: participants in particular pointed out the importance and the utility of these themes for staff training on soft skills. For all participants, materials are available at the website: <https://indico.ict.inaf.it/event/3119>
